School Superintendent's Report

Gentlemen of the School Board of Littleton:

Although I am fortunate in having been connected with your system of schools as Headmaster for six extremely pleasant years, my term of service since you honored me with election as your superintendent has covered but seven months. My report must, therefore, be limited to a statement of conditions as I have seen them during that time.

I wish to speak gratefully of the improvements effected during the past year. The renovated school at Pattenville with enlarged grounds, new ventilation and heating, new hard floor, and remodeled school room has been an inspiration and delight to the children who are so fortunate as to have it for their school home. The newly installed system of heating and sanitation at the Mitchell school have made that building one of the most attractive in town, and the needed repairs made at Apthorp have increased the efficiency of the schools materially.

Manifestly other betterments are necessary in the near future. The remaining rural school houses should be put into model condition as soon as possible. New sanitary arrangements are imperative in all of them. Heating by means of the jacketed stove should be installed, for the Pattenville school has demonstrated the efficiency of the plan. The schoolrooms should be remodeled in accordance with modern standards. Moreover, the cost of accomplishing these desirable results is modest in comparison with the great good that will be done.

Electric wiring should certainly be extended to the Manual Arts building where it is needed for both lighting and power. Indeed all the school rooms would have their working efficiency increased in marked degree by electric lighting.

I ask furthermore that you give your attention to the repairs that are necessary to keep up the sanitation and heating at the high school and at the Kilburn building.

I need not state that a new high school building is no less a crying necessity than ever. It is nearly a question of compulsion.

The registration during the fall term reached 961. The losses have been due to removals, illness, to the withdrawal from school of children below the compulsory school age because of the severity of the weather, and to the fact that a number of the children have left school as soon as they have reached sixteen. The compulsory vaccination law has kept several children from school. There have been a few regrettable losses through death.

Regularity of attendance has been seriously broken by illness. The combination of severe weather and epidemic disease like whooping cough has been extremely troublesome. Added to these unavoidable causes is the indifference of parents. The law of New Hampshire recognizes only physical disability as a sufficient cause for absence from school. The truant officer, Mr. Smith, is making commendable efforts to enforce the law and is meeting with success, yet it is a difficult matter to keep aware of all the children that may come to town from time to time. There is a considerable percentage of over-age children in our grades. Normally children in the first grade are under seven and the age increases by one year in each succeeding grade until we reach eighteen as the age limit of the high school senior. The over-age percentages are distributed according to the following tabulation:

|-------|-------|----------|
| Grade | 1—21  | per cent |
| Grade | 2—38  | per cent |
| Grade | 3—42  | per cent |
| Grade | 4—55  | per cent |
| Grade | 5—47  | per cent |
| Grade | 6—57  | per cent |
| Grade | 7—57  | per cent |
| Grade | 8—48  | per cent |
| Grade | 9—45  | per cent |
| Grade | 10—34 | per cent |

Grade 11—37 per cent

Grade 12—37 per cent

All grades together, 49 per cent.

There must be some significance in this condition. Even now we are engaged in an investigation that will probably result in clarifying our knowledge of causes and possibly suggest means of bettering the condition. Doubtless many of the children are advantageously placed as they are. It is also evident that many of them are not graded to the best advantage.

Conspicuous reasons for the presence of children in grades for which they are apparently too old are retardation because of backwardness, loss of work through absence, failure to start school sufficiently early in age. Absences are due to illness, severity of the weather, and lamentably to the indifference of parents. Removals are too frequently responsible for retardation. In some cases the children are compelled to make headway in school in the English language which they too rarely hear outside the school.

Certainly here are causes that may be avoided to some degree. Nevertheless there will remain some children who can not work to the best advantage in any grade. We have maintained one special school this year. It has not been possible because of the unusual size of the fourth grade to provide for the separate special grade at the Kilburn building. Nor have we had a special room at Apthorp. Room is lacking for an extension of our special schools. However, there is need of at least three of them in our system.

A number of the over-age pupils can be advantageously placed in higher grades. For such children a rather different scheme of promotion must be worked out. We find under-age children often exceptionally bright who need special attention as they are likely to be the leaders of future society. We must find with increasing certainty the means of ministering to the growth of our children according to their natures.

The teachers are, of a certainty, the chief factors in our educational system. We have been generally fortunate in the character of our teaching force. But we must remember that the cost of living has advanced so rapidly that it is not to be expected that teachers will remain with us unless they can receive a wage proportionate to the rise in living costs. I suggest that steps be taken to raise the salary schedule of our teachers.

It will doubtless be necessary to increase somewhat the number of teachers as the size of the grades is surely increasing. There is equal need of more room.

The new state program for elementary schools has been adopted as our course of study. It represents a rather definite and apparently radical reorganization of the scheme of elementary education. As a matter of fact we have been for some time in a stage of reconstruction and the State Department has embodied the leading principles of practice and content in this program which is one of the most distinctive and noteworthy educational publications in the country. In the administration of the schools, this year has been one of transition. A concrete instance will make the meaning clear. Formal grammar is being taught in grades 5, 6, 7, and 8. The new program provides for it in the fifth grade. After this year it will hardly be necessary to teach the subject elsewhere. No step seemed more radical than the introduction of the study of formal English grammar in this grade, yet the actual experience of the teachers is showing the wisdom of the requirement. Similar instances of readjustment might be mentioned in respect to the other subjects.

The principle that underlies the new program is the completion of the elementary course in six years. The seventh grade witnesses, normally, the beginning of the adolescent period. Our boys and girls are verging upon young manhood and womanhood. Their interests are changing and the motivation and content of their school work should change also. The so-called junior high school movement is a recognition of this basal fact. It does not seem possible to reorganize our high school course upon the six year plan immediately, as the seventh and eighth grades at Apthorp are located at considerable distances from the high school building. Undoubtedly a new high school building, when we finally have it, must be built upon the plan accomodating all children from the seventh to the twelfth grades.

In all our schools, nevertheless, we have so far as possible introduced the new method and content in our seventh and eighth grades. Departmental teaching has been worked out in the village grades and will doubtless be extended next year. Some combinations with the high school may be possible. The probable necessity of an extra teacher in these grades at Apthorp will make a similar scheme feasible there. It may be said that the reorganization means the sacrifice of no essential elements but that it does mean a new interest, a veritable awakening for the children of these grades.

RURAL SCHOOLS

I have already written of the need of repair and renovation in our rural school houses. The day has passed when the rural school problem may be dismissed lightly. Some of our best high school pupils have come from the rural schools. Out of the freshman class of more than sixty there were seventeen pupils who had an average of over eighty-five per cent for the first semester of 1916-1917. Four of these came from the rural schools of our town. A rural school pupil was fourth in the class. In these schools we find many of our most promising children. Manifestly they deserve well in school matters.

The rural school is an unusual opportunity for the teacher. The schoolhouse may become the center of activity in the community and the pupils have a right to the best that the teachers can give. I am pleased to note that our rural school teachers have been meeting the occasion with intelligence and devotion. Something has been done in the direction of manual training and domestic arts. Warm dinners have been successfully served in at least two of the schools. An extension of this work will be affected. The need of keeping first rate teachers adapted to the work is paramount.

THE HIGH SCHOOL

My relations with your high school as supervising headmaster ceased with my assumption of the duties of superintendent of all your schools, July 15, 1916. The promotion of Submaster Doody to the position of headmaster secured for the high school a man familiar with the situation from five years of fine service, and practically eliminated the necessity of readjustment because of the change of policy. I have tried to continue, so far as my time will permit, my close relations of interest and cooperation with the boys and girls of the high school. I can testify to a fine spirit of loyalty in the teaching staff. I have found the work of directing and supervising the work of the high school a pleasant task. The headmaster has worked out an effective system of administration.

The enrollment has passed all previous records with a total of more than 190. At the close of the first semester the membership was over 180. At this rate of increase the problem of seating room is acutely distressing.

The number of teachers is rather inadequate for the size of the school. An average of more than thirty pupils to each teacher is too high for the most efficient work. There would be some relief if more of the girls could make up their minds to take the course in domestic arts. We have succeeded in providing definitely for a full four years curriculum in this line of work. It is the best preparation for girls who intend to teach and offers the best all around education. For some reason it does not seem to be so popular as the commercial curriculum which is accordingly overcrowded.

I hope that it may be possible to develop more scientific means of helping the pupils to choose the right curricula. The superintendent now has in mind a series of investigation tests whereby the aptitude of the pupils may be discovered. Some such efforts may result in guidance toward vocations that will prove invaluable.

A change was effected the beginning of the fall term in the marking system. The old sliding scale passing an average of 75 per cent was abolished and a flat average of 70 in each subject substituted. The term system has been discarded in favor of the semester plan.

The usual school activities are being maintained. The school is on terms of friendly athletic relations with the high schools of the North Country with whom it is now joined in a basket-ball league. Track athletics will be an innovation next spring. The school paper, The Record, is being kept up to the standard. The high school debating society has been revived.

The school remains on the approved list of the same colleges as last year. Several of the seniors are planning to enter college next year. A group of our most promising senior girls intend to enter New Hampshire Normal schools in September.

MEDICAL INSPECTION

I am unable to quote statistics upon the results of medical inspection for the present year as the work has not been completed.

The physicians were not appointed until some time after the opening of the school year. Whooping cough has kept so many out that it has been difficult to find any time when it was possible to examine all the pupils in the schools. The inspectors have also been detained by the prevalence of sickness in town this severe winter. I believe that the inspection has been productive of considerable good. But its usefulness is decidedly hampered by lack of means to secure effective treatment after physical troubles have been located. Many parents cannot or will not take the necessary steps. Probably somewhat more than 20 per cent of the cases secure further attention. The teachers at least are furnished with a valuable diagnosis of their pupils which has been of inestimable value in their consideration of the individuals under their care.

Some way should be found of making the inspection more effective. The establishment of school nursing is one most serviceable way and might be accomplished by interested people of public spirit. The inspection itself should take place early in the year when all the pupils are more easily reached. The teachers, who are making commendable efforts to secure results could follow up all cases with even more perseverance. I think that it will be possible to make the administration of this work a special department of the superintendent's office.

I am loath to see Littleton abandon medical inspection, and I hope that the school meeting may provide for it another year.

CONCLUSION

The superintendent has made a special effort to secure an economical distribution of school supplies. I believe that we are effecting a distinct saving. The teachers are cooperating finely in this manner.

Supervision of your schools signifies friendly and helpful relations with your teachers and the children under their instruction. By means of inspection, suggestion, survey tests and teachers' meetings the superintendent has sought to carry into effective operation the ideals that have dominated his conception of education.

To you gentlemen of the School Board, he feels that he owes a debt of gratitude for your consistent support. To the public, too, he is grateful for kindness and appreciation.

Respectfully submitted,

GUY E. SPEARE, Superintendent of Schools.

Report of Supervisor of Music

Mr. G. E. Speare,
Supt. of Littleton Public Schools.

As supervisor of music, I submit the following report:

In all the grades the work has been somewhat similar to that of former years. Some changes are necessary every year in order to introduce as much of the new work that is constantly being added to public school music as we can.

We have not obtained yet, to the carrying forward of all we have planned, but the year's work in the grades shows good progress, in tone production, eye and ear training, sight reading and artistic interpretation.

The music in the high school is the logical result and crown of the work done in the grades. The class is the largest in the history of the school, numbering one hundred and forty eight.

Such a spirit of work, as they demonstrate each lesson, is not only a wonderful incentive to a teacher, but shows that here in our high school, are to be found musicians of the future.

By the aid of the school Victrola, we are teaching music appreciation.

Tapper says, "A man's life can rise no higher than his aspiration, and his aspiration will be no higher than his appreciation."

Someone says, "What is music appreciation?" It is training listeners to appreciate two things in music, the performance and the composition performed.

The Victrola gives the pupil a clearer understanding of the aims and possibilities of music; through it they will become familiar with the best music of the world. The pupils at Apthorp have plans underway to provide a Victrola for their schools.

April 28, 1916, at the class play the musical numbers were furnished by the class, consisting of selections by the school orchestra, quartet by the boys, and flag song by the girls.

May 30, Grades one, two, three and five of Apthorp school and three and four of Kilburn and eighth of high school building and chorus of high school girls took part in the Memorial Day program given at the opera house.

The concert to earn money for the school Victrola, was given at the opera house, June 9th, by the high school chorus, assisted by Mrs. Maud Parker, Mrs. Arthur S. Morris, Miss Pearson and Mrs. Florence Grey.

Part one was a miscellaneous program. Part two, Gallia, by Gounod.

At the graduation, June 21st, a Shakespeare masque was given. The music consisted of songs used in the time of Shakespeare, and was given by the class with great credit to themselves.

September 11th, Charles E. Burnham, instructor of music at Princeton University who, in his school days, was a member of the music class of the Littleton high school, gave a most interesting talk to the pupils, after which we had the pleasure of listening to his trained voice in a song recital.

Miss Richardson and myself are trying to give children a knowledge of music and loving mastery of it that shall be theirs always, and to bring music and the joy of self expression through music into the homes of the people, and by new light and cheer in our school work, make that work count in the making of good men and women.

To the teachers I would express my thanks for their loyalty and readiness in adopting such suggestions as I may have made. I wish to acknowledge my indebtedness to the School Board for their kindness and support in my work.

To you Mr. Speare, to Mr. Doody and Miss Richardson, the assistant music teacher.

Respectfully submitted,

HATTIE QUIMBY BINGHAM,

Supervisor of Music.

The accession book list has been increased during the present year by a goodly number of gifts, and the gifts of magazines, periodicals and papers for the reading room has added much to supplying extra reading matter, and as a result the reading room is meeting the demands of the times, and is better patronized than in the past. While the statistics show an increase in circulation of some over two thousand volumes more than the preceeding year, and this year also records a circulation nearly double that of eight or ten years ago, those interested in the library realize that with the increase in population the increase of circulation is only proportionate, and the fact remains that while many are well cared for there are many others to whom the library is but a name, and it is the duty of those representing the library to put before the public the privileges of the library that they may be extended to all.

Respectfully submitted,

JENNIE E. SMITH, Librarian.
